OBJECTIVE

As a budding software developer, I bring a passion for crafting efficient code and a drive to innovate in the tech landscape. Graduated with a Computer Science degree, I've honed skills in Python, SQL and web technologies. My academic projects showcase practical problem-solving, while my internship exposed me to collaborative coding and agile methodologies. Eager to contribute to impactful projects, I seek a dynamic environment to learn and excel in, leveraging my metrics-driven mindset and dedication to producing high-quality software.
